

The Upledger Institute International CranioSacral Therapy Study Group Leader Information
as of October, 2016

Thank you for your interest in forming and leading an Upledger Institute International study group. We commend your willingness to share your knowledge and experience with other healthcare practitioners. Study groups provide therapists a supportive setting in which to network, share ideas and hone skills.

Upledger Institute International-sanctioned study groups receive the full support of the Institute. This includes advertisement on our website, flyers posted at workshops, and mention of your group, as appropriate, to eligible practitioners when they call. In addition, you have access to Upledger's International Association of Healthcare Practitioners directory from which you can find potential members.

To ensure the quality of each Upledger Institute International study group, we require leaders obtain:

- a recommendation from a UII-certified CranioSacral Therapy instructor
- be UII CranioSacral Therapy Techniques Certified
- be an active CST Teaching Assistant and have assisted a minimum of three classes with an average score of at least 4.5

A Study Group Leader Application follows for you to complete and return. We request the instructor recommendation be submitted in writing to us by mail, e-mail or fax. The instructor may write his or her own letter or simply sign and submit the recommendation form provided at the end of the Study Group Leader Application.

Also complete and return the following Study Group Information form. This will register your study group with the Institute and provide important details that will be given to prospective members.

It is crucial that the information conveyed by Study Group Leaders be timely and consistent. To ensure this level of quality information, you must successfully TA at least once every 3 years. If there is a lapse of three or more years, you will be required to successfully repeat CranioSacral Therapy 1 before becoming a Study Group Leader again.
